

Terms and Conditions for Publishing an Article in Bizgrouplink

Note: Bizgrouplink reserves the right to publish or decline your submitted article. In case Bizgrouplink accepts publishing your submitted article, it will remain there until Bizgrouplink decides to publish it. All contents of the article should be original or should give proper reference to the source of the article. Your submitted article will be published with your name as the author. Your submitted article should not contain any sexual, racial, or objectionable material or content. You will be notified if your article will be published on Bizgrouplink. Bizgrouplink will not reimburse you anything for publishing your article on Bizgrouplink and will not charge you anything for publishing your article on Bizgrouplink. You are submitting the article independently on a volunteer basis. Bizgrouplink will not alter or change your article and will not be responsible for any consequences due to publishing your article.